

ASIA-PACIFIC PROJECT CONTROLS CONSULTANCY OF THE YEAR

WHAT THE JUDGES ARE LOOKING FOR

Judges are looking for the ways in which consultancies operate as a Project Controls specialist organisation, either fully or in part support of other organisations. How are you structured and how are your strategies formulated? How has your client's culture been impacted as a result of engagement? How have you developed your client's processes and implemented assurance? What examples can you share of team formation, work planning and managing data and other information? What client training was required and what were the implications to/for the client of its implementation? What changes are evident as a result and what measurements are in place to monitor continued improvement?

NOTE: A key element of the submission will be client endorsement.

Each of the criteria is scored between 0 (no evidence at all) and 10 (perfect evidence) with each section being weighted accordingly (see %).

PEOPLE (35%)

● Training: Up to 250 words

From a recent client engagement describe what client training was required and what were the implications to/for the client of its implementation? Explain how any issues were overcome throughout the process.

● Cultural issues: Up to 250 words

How would you describe the culture within the consultancy and how has this been evolved? From a recent client engagement how has your client's culture been impacted as a direct result?

● Leading innovation in P3M: Up to 250 words

Outline any key challenges you/they encountered managing the interfaces with other areas and disciplines that needed to be overcome.

● Career development and professionalism internally: Up to 250 words

Describe the development and training options that are available for staff within your consultancy and how these are structured/linked to any career progression requirements. Outline the key milestones and why these have been selected.

How important do your staff find a professional approach to career development to be? Explain how this professional approach was selected, implemented and then further developed so that it remains appropriate.

ORGANISATIONAL DESIGN (25%)

● Structure: Up to 250 words

How is the consultancy structured? How was your business strategy formulated? What difficulties have been encountered in implementing and maintaining the strategy? How have you overcome these challenges?

There will be no discussions or interviews with applicants of the awards' submissions. Each written submission and documents are reviewed by a team of independent, professional, industry judges who will not confer on entries. Their decisions are final.

Please note our rules of entry document on www.projectcontrolexpo.com/aus/awards

From 25th May 2018 it is essential for organisations to be GDPR compliant. On the Awards web submission form there is a check box to allow your submitted data to be used for the awards judging process. Please ensure the box is checked for your submission to be valid.

- Establishment of changes: Up to 250 words

How do you go around identifying, implementing and then establishing the correct changes for your clients? What tools & techniques and innovative ways do you utilise to assist this?

- Diversity of project teams, recruitment and development: Up to 250 words

What diversity can be evidenced within your consultancy in terms of creation of project teams, recruitment and business development? What is the biggest single lesson learned from these in the past 12 months?

- Implementation of sponsor role: Up to 250 words

How is the role of sponsor appointed within your consultancy and client's? What one good practice tip would you share that others, outside of your business, could benefit from?

PROCESSES (40%)

- Project assurance: Up to 250 words

What tools & techniques do you utilise to develop and implement your client's Project Controls assurance? How are these monitored by the client, ongoing?

- Completeness of P3M processes: Up to 250 words

Describe the key processes utilised by your consultancy and how these have been refined over time. What formal 'methodologies' do you use if any, in support of these key processes as you provide your consultancy services around Project Controls?

- Documentation and access for client staff: Up to 250 words

Describe, from a recent client engagement, the overall documentation process and how client staff access was managed. What issues were encountered and how were the stakeholders kept apprised?

- Results and benefits in the consultancy and client businesses: Up to 500 words

Focusing on a single specific recent client engagement:

- How did the project achieve what it set out to do for your consultancy?
- Describe the results and benefits for the overall project team. What will the project team take away with them into the next project?
- Describe the results and the benefits for the customer/end user.
- Describe the results and benefits for other stakeholders. How did the successful completion of the project provide any benefit to wider society?

- Results and benefit in the client businesses: Up to 500 words

Provide client endorsement of your engagement on their headed paper and signed off at a suitably senior level explaining why the project was a success through their lens?

There will be no discussions or interviews with applicants of the awards' submissions. Each written submission and documents are reviewed by a team of independent, professional, industry judges who will not confer on entries. Their decisions are final.

Please note our rules of entry document on www.projectcontrolexpo.com/aus/awards

From 25th May 2018 it is essential for organisations to be GDPR compliant. On the Awards web submission form there is a check box to allow your submitted data to be used for the awards judging process. Please ensure the box is checked for your submission to be valid.